

Miller & Rhoads

"The South's Largest Department Store"

Bibles, Prayer Books and Testaments

At Less Than Half Price for To-Day's Special Sale

Every wide-awake, alert buyer "puts over a scoop" in purchasing every once in a while, that is, if he has the proper backing. Just this much in explaining a sale startling in its low prices. Our book buyer while in New York bought from a well-known publisher his entire line of drummers' samples. The samples consist of Bibles, Prayer Books and Testaments.

We secured this purchase at wonderfully low prices, and you get the direct benefit. Remember these books have been handled as samples, but at least ninety per cent. don't show it.

This sale offers you the opportunity to buy Bibles at less than the cost of making.

Sale This Morning—Book Department

Basement.

$1.00 Bibles, special this sale... 39c.
$2.00 Bibles, special this sale... 79c.
$2.50 Bibles, special this sale... 98c.
$3.50 Bibles, special this sale... $1.39.
$5.00 Bibles, special this sale... $1.98.

Hundreds of styles for you to select from, but only one or two of a kind.

PRAYER BOOKS, TESTAMENTS, ETC.

25c value, special this sale... 10c.
75c value, special this sale... 29c.
$1.25 value, special this sale... 50c.
$2.50 value, special this sale... 98c.

To-Day Only

Books formerly selling at $1.08 offered special at 39c

To make a record in the Book Department To-day, fiction lovers will be given an opportunity to purchase new and popular books, formerly selling at $1.08, for 39c.

Remember, this price holds good for To-Day only.
$1.08 Books to-day, 39c. Any of the following:

The Doctor—Connor.
Shepherd of the Hills—Wright.
The Idlers—Roberts.
Little Brother of the Rich—Patterson.
The Man in the Case—Phelps.
The Bishop's Emeralds—Townley.
Jerry Junior—Webster.
Lady of the Blue Motor—Paternoster.
Lost Leader—Oppenheim.
Coast of Chance—Chamberlain.
Man Without Principle—Terreve.
Jane Cable—McCutcheon.
Abner Daniel—Harben.
Powers and Maxine—The Williamses.
And many other new titles.

More Good News from the Book Dep't for To-Day

Post Card Albums, holding 100 cards, Tuesday, 10c.
Post Card Albums, holding 400 cards, Tuesday 25c.
Post Card Albums, holding 500 cards, Tuesday 39c.
Cloth Bound Post Card Album, nicely finished, hold 400 cards, value $1.00; special, 50c.
School Bags. We have just received another supply of all the new styles.
Lenox Court, a high grade, cloth finished box paper, special for To-day, 7c per box.

More New Books Just Out

Quite a list ready for you. Some book stores get $1.50 for these books. Our regular price, $1.08.

Truxton King, by Geo. Barr McCutcheon. Sequel to "Graumark," and just as fascinating.
The Danger Mark, by Robt. W. Chambers.
The Calling of Dan Mathews, by Wright.
The Inner Shrine, Anonymous.
Katrine, by Lane.
The Girl of Limberlost, by Porter.
The Goose Girl, by Harold McGrath.
Bill-Toppers, by Castvigne.

Redfern Corset Demonstration

This week will close the demonstration of Redfern Corsets, and you should take advantage of this opportunity. No obligations to buy. See Miss Elwood, the expert corsetier, and learn many new Corset facts.

Redfern Corsets are acknowledged by all designers to be the height of corset art.

Autumnal styles in dress call for "Redfern" Corsets—absolute correctness.

Attached to Redfern Corsets are the security Rubber Button Hose Supporters.

Redfern models range in price from $3.00 to $15.00 per pair.

TILDEN SCHERER BECOMES EDITOR

Pastor of Hoge Memorial Resigns to Take Charge of New Publication.

After three years of successful work as pastor of the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church here, Rev. Tilden Scherer has resigned from his duties there to become editor and business manager of a publication put out by the Presbyterian Committee of Publication for the young people of the church.

Onward was established by the church two years ago, and has been since its foundation published in Pittsburgh, Pa. Arrangements have now been made by which the entire plant will be removed to this city and placed in direct charge of Mr. Scherer, who will enter on his duties October 1. Pending the selection of a new pastor for Hoge Memorial he will retain his pulpit in addition to editing the paper.

Mr. Scherer received his ministerial education at the Union Theological Seminary, where he was graduated three years ago, taking immediate charge of his present pastorate, where his success has been unusual. Though most of his time has been taken up with handling the paper, he will not give up the ministry, and will fill vacant pulpits throughout the State as his services are needed.

WRECKED AUTOMOBILE

John W. Jackson Thrown Out of Machine When He Strikes Car.

In an attempt yesterday morning to cross Broad Street, opposite Madison, John W. Jackson, of 302 Davis Avenue, struck Broad and Main Street car No. 520, wrecked his automobile and was thrown out.

Mr. Jackson was coming out of Madison in a southerly direction, and according to himself and the motorman, first started up Broad Street. He changed his mind and attempted to cross in front of the approaching car. The motorman tried to reverse, but it was too late, and the automobile struck the left bumper of the car, twisting the framework of the fender. The machine was caught between the car and an electric light pole and was badly damaged. Mr. Jackson was hurled out, but his injuries were said not to be serious.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Louis Edmunds Guy and Anna Thela Louise Rosenzweig, to William M. Kinney and Rena Singleton Carleton, and to Louis C. Shulleets and Mattie Shulleets.

HIGH CONSTABLE'S BILLS WERE LATE

Magistrate Purdie to Get His Fee for Holding Commission of Lunacy Over Non-Resident.

Before the Committee on Printing and Claims last night Clerk H. T. Ezekiel made the following report of funds under the control of the committee for this year:

Care of Lunatics—Appropriation, $800, to which was added a supplementary appropriation of $600; expended to date, $620; balance, $480. Sundry claims—Appropriation, $200; expended to date, $53.50; balance, $146.50. Elections—Appropriation, $2,000; expended to date, $275.37; balance, $1,724.63. Virginia Mechanics' Institute—Appropriation, $10,000; expended to date, $5,651.23; balance, $4,348.77. Stationery and printing—Appropriation, $8,000; expended to date, $5,355.83; balance, $2,644.17.

The High Constable presented a number of bills claiming fees for summoning coroner's juries. All but fourteen of these were found to be out of date, having been incurred during last year and the year before. They were sent to the Council for action. The committee will notify the High Constable that such bills must hereafter be presented within sixty days.

According to the opinion of City Attorney Pollard the committee recommended the claim of Magistrate J. A. Purdie, $1.50, for holding a commission of lunacy over C. G. Wells, a non-resident. The claim was previously held up because Wells did not live in the city, it being held that the fee should have been paid by the State. Councilman Gentry suggested that there was a law requiring the estate of a lunatic to pay for such commissions where it is possible, and that by enforcing this statute much money would be saved to the city. A resolution was adopted referring the matter to the City Attorney for an opinion.

The claim of Dr. Thomas G. Pretlow of $22 for telephone bills, and that of the Smith-Courtney Company for $50, alleged damage by overflow of water in their cellar, were rejected.

REDMOND IS CANDIDATE FOR CITY SERGEANTS

John J. Redmond, an independent candidate for the office of City Sergeant, has been nominated by the committee in his candidacy with the clerk of the Hustings Court, and his name will appear on the official ballot. While Mr. Redmond is a Republican, he has not been nominated by that party. It is expected that Mr. Redmond is the only name which will appear on the ballot outside of the regular Democratic nominees for legislative and city offices.

FUNERAL SERVICE TO-DAY FOR TWO

Man Who Killed Daughter and Then Himself Will Rest by Her Side in Oakwood.

W. B. Grover and his daughter, Louise, whom he shot and killed before committing suicide early Sunday morning in their home in Chesterfield cemetery, will be buried in Oakwood Cemetery, this morning, the funeral services being held at 10 o'clock in the Third Presbyterian Church. Dr. R. B. Eggleston, pastor of that church, will preside, and will be assisted by Rev. D. H. Ralston, of the Second Presbyterian Church, of Petersburg.

A hearse will be required for each body to travel the long distance from the home to the cemetery. The pallbearers for Mr. Grover will be L. H. Kemp, Charles Childrey, Henry Lyne, George B. Carter, W. B. Frayser and William Willis; those for Miss Grover, E. G. Garrett, John How, John Archer, Dr. W. O. Flake, T. K. Young and R. D. Redding. The father and daughter will lie side by side.

Rev. Wesley W. Grover, the son, who has a church in Parsons, Va., arrived yesterday. He and his mother are the only survivors.

TOURIST PARTY HERE

Eastern Visitors Arrive at Jefferson to Spend Two Days.

After having visited other important places in the State, one of the Raymond and Whitcomb tourist parties, composed of twenty persons, registered at the Jefferson Hotel last night, and will spend the next two days in the city. They came from Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and are in charge of C. W. Smith.

The party started from Philadelphia, making the first stop at Gettysburg, coming through later to the Luray Caverns, where several days were spent, arriving here from Natural Bridge. Leaving here to-morrow afternoon by way of the Chesapeake and Ohio, the party goes to Old Point, and from there up the bay by boat to Washington.

Those making the trip are: Mrs. Corbelle Unswanger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, Miss S. S. Dindorf, Mrs. A. R. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hegeman, Miss Ruth M. Talbot, Miss Florence F. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McQuinn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Ingalls and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Davis.

Officer Allen Suspended.

Policeman R. W. Allen, of the mounted force of the Second District, was suspended temporarily yesterday under charges. Major Werner will investigate the charges against the officer to-day. Allen is one of the new men on the force.

SOME CHANGES IN ANNEXATION PLAN

Manchester Committee Modifies Tentative Proposition as to Water and Tax.

AGREE ON MOST OF OTHERS

Long Discussion Over Various Features, but No Decided Opposition.

The Committee on Annexation of the City Council of Manchester met last night to consider the proposition made by the Annexation Committee of the city of Richmond in regard to the union of the two cities. The Manchester committee, composed of L. R. Brown, chairman; Clinton Hall, clerk; C. C. Jones, J. W. Moore, N. Campbell and A. R. Hooker, deliberated for more than two hours without reaching a decision, but numerous substitutions and amendments were added to the plan as proposed by the Richmond committee.

After Mr. Hall, the clerk, had read the clauses, Mr. Moore proposed that they should be taken up by section. Section 1 was read and adopted on Mr. Moore's motion. Long discussion followed the reading of section 2, relative to what the ordinances now in force in Richmond should be changed to. Campbell thought this amendment to be one of the most serious. Mr. Moore moved that this section be passed by, which was done.

The third section, which concerns the construction of a new bridge and the bridge between Richmond and Manchester, was next considered. The Richmond clause states that the bridge shall be constructed "as soon as practicable after consolidation." Mr. Hooker offered a substitute to this clause, that the bridge must be started at the earliest practical date, and not later than twelve months after consolidation.

Mr. Campbell moved the adoption of section No. 4, which was carried.

Bulk Over Tax Question.
Mr. Jones objected to the whole of No. 5, when read. He said he didn't know what the word "taxation" meant. The former Manchester proposition had read "75 per cent. gross of all revenues derived," etc., which would amount to about $2,000 a year. Mr. Jones moved that this section should read 40 per cent. of all revenues derived by the consolidated municipality from taxation, licenses and other sources. Mr. Campbell said the word "period" in "first period of five years" might easily refer to one, two or three years. "Period" was accordingly cut out. Mr. Hooker next spoke and offered as a substitute to Mr. Jones's motion that 40 per cent. should be changed to 60 per cent. Mr. Jones replied that the business was not done, that he had not yet carefully considered that 40 per cent. was sufficient. After a wordy argument, a vote was taken and 60 per cent. was determined upon, and that the change should be from 75 per cent. to 60 per cent. in the original Manchester proposition.

No. 6 was adopted with the word "permanently" added after "office." The consolidated municipality shall establish and maintain an office within said territorial limits permanently.

No. 8 was carried without discussion.

Mr. Campbell offered a substitution to No. 9, but Mr. Jones's motion that that the section be adopted was carried.

Nos. 10 and 11 were recorded and carried.

The Water Supply.
Section 12, relating to the water system of the city of Manchester, was next in question. Mr. Campbell wanted the adoption of their clause, No. 13, in place of the Richmond clause. Mr. Brown intimated that the two were almost precisely alike. Mr. Campbell's objection centered in the word "good" in "good and adequate water," embodied in the clause. Accordingly, Mr. Campbell's motion was carried.

No. 13 was carried on the substitution of twelve months for six months. Nos. 15, 16, 17 and 18 were duly adopted. No. 19 was also adopted, but with the amendment "Third Street" put in the blank space in the clause. This blank space was filled with the words "the water works and the establishment of plants and location of tanks. The last section, No. 20, was adopted.

Section No. 2, which was passed by, was next considered. It was determined that No. 2 should be adopted, but along with No. 10 of the Manchester proposition. Mr. Campbell thought No. 2 was inadequate alone. He asserted that it did not touch the question of taxation.

After some further sifting of the terms of the sections the meeting adjourned. The substituted and amended sections will be put into shape for the next joint meeting of the two Councils.

POLICE COURT CASES

Alleged Assaults of Lee Peckington to Be Heard on Saturday.

The case against Leslie Powell and C. W. Perrow, charged with assaulting and stabbing Lee Peckington, was continued in Police Court yesterday morning to October 2. Lee Peckington was unable to appear yesterday, but the physicians at the City Hospital, where he is being treated, think he will be able to appear next Saturday.

Ward Bagby, white, charged with having seriously stabbed John Cottrell some months ago, appeared, but the case was continued to Thursday, and he was bailed in the sum of $500.

Susie Williams, colored, was fined $100, sentenced to sixty days in jail, and placed under $500 bond for two months on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

Mary Edwards, colored, charged with throwing a lamp at her husband, John Edwards, was sent on to the grand jury.

FELL FIFTY FEET

Charles Jones Fractured Skull at Bluffs' New Armory.

Charles Jones, a colored laborer, of 509 North Thirty-first Street, fell fifty feet from one of the top stories of the new "Bluffs" armory, on Sixth Street yesterday and fractured his skull. The city ambulance was called, and Jones was taken in charge by Dr. Coshby, who took him to the City Hospital for treatment. He may recover. Jones was lowering a wheelbarrow, when he slipped and fell.

M. J. Duke, of 4 North Thirty-first Street, had his arm broken by the backward jerk of a gasoline engine on a launch near the Clyde Line wharf yesterday, and was taken to the City Hospital. He will be able to leave in the morning.

CAROLINA PAUPERS COME HERE FOR HELP

Another Case Turns Up at Associated Charities, Which Emphasizes Problem Dr. Buchanan and Others Are Trying to Solve.

Remembering the kind treatment she had received here four years ago, when she came to Richmond destitute and hungry, with four young children in her charge, Mrs. Nona Davis, of Durham, N. C., turned up at the Associated Charities again last night, and help was given to her and her children, the family receiving board and shelter until further arrangements could be made for their relief.

Mrs. Davis came here on Friday, but she refused the aid of the Associated Charities, and, with the money she was able to procure from various sources, she got a room on Twenty-first Street, near Broad. But her funds ran low, and she was unable to pay the rent, though it came to only 75 cents a week. The Associated Charities was notified that a family was in distress in that neighborhood, and investigation showed that it was the Davis family.

It seems that money was given to Mrs. Davis in Durham to pay her expenses here, though nothing was done for support after she arrived in Richmond.

The coming of this family illustrates a problem which confronts Dr. Buchanan, secretary of the Associated Charities, one which seems to be growing in proportion. Four out of the last five cases that have come here for help have been from North Carolina, and there have been many other instances in which paupers from that State have come to Richmond for aid. Since the Associated Charities was established for the relief of the poor in Richmond, and all its money is needed for that purpose, it is hardly fair and just, it is stated, to expect the association to care permanently for all the outside cases which come to it for help. Temporary aid, as the case of Mrs. Davis, is always afforded, but the Associated Charities has not the funds to do the work that extends into bounds beyond its originally indicated scope.

It is probable that Mrs. Davis and her family will be sent back to Durham, as was done when they came here four years ago.

STUDENT-CARRIER WORKS HIS WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

Dr. Boatwright Commends Young Man Who Rises at 2:30 A.M. to Deliver The Times-Dispatch--Recalls How Bishop Chambers Did It

Richmond College opened its seventeenth session last night in the presence of an audience of students, alumni and patrons that filled the college auditorium. President Boatwright presided, and Dr. R. H. Pitt opened the exercises with prayer.

In cordial words of greeting Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Elyson, president of the board of trustees, welcomed the students to the college and to Richmond.

The college boys responded with a college yell and song that made the windows rattle.

In his introductory remarks President Boatwright said that 245 students had enrolled in the college, and that about twenty more were already on the grounds. This was an increase of at least 10 per cent. over any previous year. Students were still coming in, and those who were exempted would quickly carry the enrollment beyond 300. He said the students came from seventeen States and three foreign countries. Quite a number of them are earning their own way through college. Among these he referred to one who rises at 2:30 A. M. every day to deliver The Times-Dispatch on one of the city routes. One of the most distinguished missionaries now in China, Dr. R. E. Chambers, he said, had worked his way through college by delivering the Richmond Dispatch twenty years ago.

Dr. Boatwright also called the names of the new instructors, and spoke of their qualifications for their work. Among these are Professor D. R. Anderson, M. A., of the chair of history; John Randolph Tucker, LL. D., instructor in law; H. B. Gilliam, B. A., gymnasium instructor; Charles Phillips, assistant in chemistry; J. R. Duval, assistant in mathematics, and W. H. Davis, assistant in physics.

Educational Ideals.
The chief event of the evening was a symposium on "Educational Ideals," in which Professors Dickey, Van Landingham, Bingham and Metcalf participated. Each of the professors spoke for twenty minutes, presenting clearly the dominant ideals, respectively, of Germany, England, the Western United States and New England. Dr. Metcalf, who was the last speaker, mentioned concern for the public health, the elevation of business education, regard for the personal equation and the establishment of a liberal education. Characteristics of education in New England. He called particular attention to Richmond's need of greater library facilities for all the people.

The addresses were enthusiastically received, and many said the occasion was the best they had ever enjoyed at the college. After the public exercises the College Young Men's Christian Association gave a reception in the society halls to the new students.

PICTURESQUE SCENES ON GAY WHITE WAY AT FAIR

Richmond's Gay White Way will take on a Broadway expression this time next week, when the streams of victrolas on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

ed with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing, and so does everybody else."

The giddy girls and their gallants will blossom in profusion, and coy glances will block the movement of the motoring throng. Fair-week flirtations on the street laugh at blue-coated sentries. Cherry smashes and rainbow-colored ice-cream will be the principal diet of these.

The hotels will no longer be crowded with the sons of rest that infest the day, but cordons of politicians will be formed in them, and many a long-drawn campaign will be fought over under the stars of the city. The "flure of the city" will bring out people of all sorts, and some of the figures will indeed be picturesque and interesting.

There will be the playing veterans with their banjos and wartime songs, in faded coats, trying to make their money, and the all-too-true saying of the emotional graduate of the Pikeville Conservatory of Music: "I feel sad when I sing